German U-Boats Seen Off Newfoundland; Nazis Reach Black Sea, Split Reds 3 Ways

Advance Is 100 Miles in Eight Days

Berlin Says Roads Are Strewn With Corpses, Smashed Trucks as at Dunkerque

Kerch Is Isolated

Russians Say Reports From Central Front Are Better

(By The Associated Press)
German U-boats were reported operating off the coast of Newfoundland—within sight of the shore—today, indicating that the Reich had moved its under-sea threat to the closest approach yet to American shores.

The disclosure was made by Canada's Navy Minister Angus MacDonald.

MacDonald's statement, placing units of the Nazi U-boat fleet less than 900 miles north of Boston, followed shortly after a German spokesman in Berlin had declared:

"Now as always, we can only say whoever starts for England heads for certain death."

MacDonald said Canadian warships and planes were attacking German submarines "wherever we can find them," and in the presence of Rear Admiral Percy Nelles, Canadian naval chief of staff, he added:

"You can say there are submarines right off the coast of Newfoundland—that they are actually within sight of the shores."

St. Johns, Newfoundland, is about 885 miles northeast of Boston.

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were reported to have stormed across the rugged Yaila mountains and reached the Black Sea today, thus apparently splitting Russia's Crimean defense forces into three parts after a 100-mile advance in eight days.

The Berlin radio compared the Red armies' retreat with the British-French withdrawal from the bloody fields of Flanders to Dunkerque last year, declaring that roads were littered with smashed trucks and artillery while snow drifted over corpses heaped in the roadside ditches.

German troops were pictured as pursuing the Russians toward the Baraklava heights, south of Sevastopol, where the Soviet light brigade made its storied charge "Into the Valley of Death" in the Crimean war of 1853-55.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters said Nazi troops had planted their swastika battleflags on the peninsula's south coast between Sevastopol and Kerch.

German dispatches yesterday said that Kerch, at the eastern tip of the Crimea, had been isolated by Axis forces which knifed across the neck of the pear-shaped peninsula and captured the coastal town of Feodosiya.

Serious Blow to Defense

The reported crossing of the Yaila Mountains appeared as a serious blow to the Red armies' defense strategy. Soviet reports to London had said previously that Russian commanders made no attempt to stem the German sweep across the central Crimea after the break through the Perekop Isthmus, gateway to the Black Sea republic. Instead, these reports said, the Russians merely executed rear-guard actions while moving their main forces to strong positions along the Yaila range to cover Sevastopol and Kerch.

With the Crimean struggle evidently nearing its final stages, the Russians found more cheerful news on the central front before Moscow, where Gen. Gregory K. Zhukov's Red armies were reported to have recaptured the city of Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of the U. S. S. R. capital.

Soviet front-line dispatches also declared that a German column which advanced five miles in the Mzhaisk sector, 57 miles west of Moscow, had been thrown back.

Walsh Says Arming Of Ships May Curb Strength of Navy

Massachusetts Democrat Is Outspoken Against Any Neutrality Changes as Proposed

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—Administration legislative leaders reported after a White House conference today that President Roosevelt believes Congress should enact the pending neutrality revision measure in its present form rather than delay it by tacking on amendments designed to curtail defense strikes.

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Senate naval affairs committee protested today that to arm American merchant ships now would "weaken our navy" at a time when he believed the nation was almost certain to be involved in war—if indeed it was not already in.

Walsh came out flat-footed against the pending legislation for neutrality act revision. He opposed both the arming of cargo vessels as approved by the House and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's amendment to permit those ships to enter the war zones.

"The truth is," Walsh asserted in a prepared address, "that we have neither sufficient guns nor requisite gun crews to give our merchant ships effective defense in event of attack except by transferring from our navy to our merchant ships, guns, ammunition and trained gunners which the navy can ill spare."

"We weaken our navy at this most critical time without any offsetting gain. Putting a gun and a gun crew on a merchant ship is at best a feeble protection. The only effective defense, as events have amply demonstrated, is the conveying of merchant ships by a strong naval support."

The Massachusetts senator, who often has criticized the administration's foreign policy moves, declared that repeal of the major prohibitions of the neutrality act would be tantamount to "concomitance in a shooting war which the President on his own authority has proclaimed."

"There is no such thing as a partial war," he continued. "Either we are in the war or we are out and it is now abundantly clear that we are in, by reason of a course of action which Congress neither sanctioned nor approved—a course which has gone far beyond that heretofore had been regarded as the constitutional prerogatives of the Chief Executive."

Walsh and Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) were given free rein for lengthy anti-revision speeches today—the ninth day of Senate debate—but leaders intended to seek an agreement later to limit debate in hopes of reaching a vote tomorrow.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said there was no doubt that the bill would pass as amended by the foreign relations committee. House leaders were said to believe their chamber would accept the Senate's changes by a margin of 70 votes.

Walsh's views were in sharp contrast to those of the administration.

Fire Chief to Give Instructions About Fighting Small Fires Caused by Bombs

The residents of Kingston are invited to a series of instructive talks by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy on the handling of small fires and fires resulting from incendiary bombs.

These talks will be given in all parts of the city and is a part of the instruction against air raids that is being developed by the local defense council. All those persons who have been designated as air wardens, section wardens or post wardens, are expected by the defense officials to attend these talks.

This information is of such a vital nature and so simple in application that every householder of Kingston should know it, a spokesman said today. The first few minutes of any fire are most important and if each family

La Guardia Wins His Third Term By Plurality of About 133,000

Four Indictments Are Sent to Court

November Grand Jury Has Two Sealed Writs Which Go to County Court

Only four open indictments were handed up by the November grand jury which made its report this morning before Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirrick. Two sealed indictments were moved to County Court.

Judgment was pronounced upon only one of the four William A. Kelly, 26, of Brooklyn, who pleaded guilty to second degree forgery, alleged to have been committed November 6, 1937. He was given a suspended sentence to the Elmira State Reformatory.

Everyone concerned during an investigation of Kelly's record, said the judge, had asked for leniency and he added that he was confident that Kelly would go back to work and keep his record clear if he suspended sentence and placed him on probation. Fred Martine, 38, Accord, charged with carnal abuse of a child, through his attorney Louis G. Bruhn, pleaded not guilty. The indictment set the date of the crime at October 6.

James Edward Leonard, 21, of 33 Green street this city pleaded not guilty to a charge of third degree burglary and unlawful entry alleged to have been committed last October 26. He was arrested for an alleged attempt to enter the home of Harry LeFevre, Jr., on Maiden Lane. He said he would secure counsel.

Louis Turk, 18, of 63 Hasbrouck avenue, this city, pleaded not guilty to a charge of second degree grand larceny alleged to have been committed October 23. The court said it would assign counsel. The youth was arrested for the alleged theft of an automobile.

One previously indicted defendant, Edwin B. Ranslow, 31, of Kerhonkson was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Ranslow had been arraigned October 14 on a charge of third degree

New York Mayor Polls Smallest Plurality in Three Campaigns; Other Elections Command Attention

(By The Associated Press)
Fiorella La Guardia won his third term, too.

New York's short, bustling mayor came from behind in yesterday's balloting to defeat William O'Dwyer, Democratic nominee, and assure himself of another four years tenure at the controls of the nation's largest city, the first third-term in the city's history.

La Guardia, who campaigned for President Roosevelt last year, had the chief executive's support for his own third term bid. O'Dwyer was backed by such prominent Democrats as Edward J. Flynn, national party chairman, and James A. Farley, state chairman. As the nominee of four political parties, La Guardia collected support from members of the Republican, American Labor, City Fusion and United City Organizations.

Crimea Gives Grim Tragedy of Greece

Monotonous Nazi Havoc Is Proof of Vulnerability of Natural Forts

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT (Freeman Special News Service)
The battle of the Crimea is forming itself into a grimly monotonous repetition of the lessons of the Peloponnesus and Crete.

These lessons are the vulnerability of even the best natural defenses of island or peninsula and the impotence of seapower operating in restricted waters—against the applied might of overwhelming air power.

In another day the four-mile wide Perekop Isthmus which connects Crimea with the Russian mainland would have been a death trap for an invader from the north, if properly defended. In this war, the Germans negotiated it by combining air-borne shock troops, dive bombing, and ground assault from fast-striking mechanical units.

Up to very recently the Crimean war of 1853-56, despite its mismanagement, was pointed out in Britain as a historic demonstration of the potency of armies based on sea power.

All Supervisory Offices With Exception of Hurley Go to Republicans; Big Local Interest Centered Upon Mayoralty Contest

Vote in City County Vote

With the aid of the American Labor party vote, William F. Edelmuth, Democrat, was elected mayor of Kingston at the polls on Tuesday, defeating Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, Republican, seeking a fifth term, by a plurality of 273 votes.

Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk was returned to office by a plurality of 1,200 over his Democratic opponent, Raymond W. Garraghan.

City Judge Matthew V. Cahill was re-elected, defeating Daniel Hoffman, his Democratic opponent, by a plurality of 2,993 votes.

That the American Labor vote played a decisive part in the election of Mayor-elect Edelmuth is shown by the fact that Mayor Heiselman received 6,517 votes on the Republican ticket while Edelmuth received 6,284 straight Democratic votes, which, with the 506 American Labor votes cast for him, gave him his plurality over Mayor Heiselman.

As a result of Tuesday's election the Republicans still retain control of the Common Council, 7 to 6. In addition to the four seats held by the Democrats the past two years they gained two more seats by electing their aldermanic candidates in the Third and Fifth wards.

The Common Council for 1942-43 is made up as follows:

First ward—Paul A. Zucca, R.
Second ward—Oscar V. Newkirk, R.
Third ward—Andrew T. Gilday, D.
Fourth ward—William J. Hough-taling, D.
Fifth ward—Martin F. Lenihan, D.
Sixth ward—Paul Black, D.
Seventh ward—Thomas F. Coughlin, D.
Eighth ward—Dorr E. Monroe, R.
Ninth ward—James E. Connelly, R.
Tenth ward—Fred L. Renn, R.
Eleventh ward—Eugene Cornwell, R.
Twelfth ward—Victor H. Roth, R.
Thirteenth ward—Matthew J. Jordan, D.

Interest in Mayoralty

Interest in the year centered almost exclusively on the mayoralty fight, for it was early conceded that Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk and City Judge Matthew V. Cahill would be re-elected, although by decreased pluralities.

In its fight to elect Edelmuth the Democratic party centered almost its entire campaign, and in the early days of the campaign it was seen that the election for mayor would be stressed.

Mayor-elect Edelmuth is the first Democratic mayor to be elected since 1931, when Eugene B. Carey was elected to office.

That year it will be recalled Mayor Heiselman made his first appearance in the political limelight, running as the Republican candidate for alderman-at-large. While Carey was elected mayor that year, Mayor Heiselman defeated Sam N. Mann for the post of alderman-at-large by 12 votes. Two years later Mayor Heiselman again ran to succeed himself and again won by a large majority.

This was the year that Harry B. Walker was elected mayor on the Republican ticket, but, owing to ill health, he resigned after serving but a short period, and Mayor Heiselman as alderman-at-large automatically became mayor, filling out the unexpired term of Mayor Walker.

Two years later Mayor Heiselman was re-elected mayor of the city and held the office for four terms, a record only attained by the late Palmer Canfield, who also served the city for four terms.

In Eighth Ward
Mayor Heiselman in a close fight lost his own ward, the Eighth, by 28 votes. The ward, however, re-elected Dorr Monroe as alderman, but defeated Supervisor Henry F. Kelsch, the Republican incumbent, by three votes, electing James J. Costello, who was seeking his first public office.

Ulster county went Republican again on Tuesday in a landslide, the entire ticket being elected by decisive pluralities. In the sweep the Republicans also retained control of the Board of Supervisors, electing a supervisor in every township with the exception of Hurley. Combined with the Republican supervisors elected in the City of Kingston, the majority stands, Republicans, 24; Democrats, 8 and one tie.

In the overwhelming endorsement of the Republican party, Howard C. Anderson, Republican candidate for the office of sheriff, was carried into office by a plurality of 6,705 over his Democratic opponent, Theron Lasher, the total vote being for both city and county, Republican, 22,318; Democrat, 14,681; American Labor, 932.

Albert D. Kniffin, Republican candidate for Commissioner of Public Welfare, was elected over his Democratic opponent, Mary L. O'Connor, by a plurality of 6,487, the total vote being Republican, 15,570; Democrat, 8,649; American Labor, 434.

Jesse McHugh, Republican candidate for coroner, was also elected over his Democratic opponent, Fred Coulter, polling a plurality of 7,488, the total vote being for both city and county, Republican, 22,149; Democrat, 13,875; American Labor, 786.

Besides the Republican successes for county offices, the Republican party, under the leadership of Roscoe V. Elsworth, county chairman, retains control of the Board of Supervisors. Throughout the townships, the Republican candidates were elected to the Board of Supervisors in every town with the exception of Hurley. The City of Kingston vote on supervisors resulted in five Republicans being elected and one tie, with the decision still to be handed down by the Board of Elections. This gives the Republicans 24 supervisors and 8 for the Democrats and one tie.

Life Begins at 70

Dublin, Ind.—The proverbial life of three score years and ten doesn't hold for Riley A. Laymon. Now, at 71, he's the father of twins—a boy and a girl—by a 29-year-old wife.

And he has a new job in a Cambridge city factory.

Handy Gadget

Salt Lake City—Police figure maybe a near sighted traveler picked up the map, missing from the wall of a downtown building.

It's affixed to a six foot sign, with a three foot thermometer and the route to Denver.

Play Ball

Princess Anne, Md.—When the Brooklyn Dodgers succumbed to the New York Yankees a month ago, most folks forgot baseball, and football took a bow—but not on Maryland's eastern shore.

Jack Donoway of Willards, Md., was in "mid-season form" as he pitched a 1-0 classic, evening up the series with the Princess Anne Independents at four-all, and the club plan to play the rubber game Sunday provided it doesn't snow.

Service

Kansas City—Citizens are beginning to learn to use the public library.

A patron roused from his book as a messenger boy tiptoed in and presented a telegram at the main desk.

The librarian reached but the patron interrupted. "It's for me. I'm expecting it. Here are my credentials."

Double Trouble

West Point, Neb.—The stork brought twin girls, Donna Mae and Fonda Rae, to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Henke in 1938. Jan, a boy, and Janet, a girl, arrived in 1939. The third set of twins, boys, was born this week.

S. O. S.

Chicago—Edward Bowe enlisted the aid of the police of the Missing Persons Bureau in his search for his mother, Mary Ralph Bowe. He had not seen her or heard from her since she left their home at Joliet, Ill., in 1884.

Rochester Center School Activities

A Halloween Party was held at the School House, Friday afternoon. The party was given by the leader, Mrs. Lena R. Burgher. Prizes were given for the best dressed child. Halloween games were played for which prizes were given. Refreshments were served consisting of cake, cookies, cup cakes, cocoa, and candy, by the older pupils, assisted by the teacher, Mrs. Burgher. Besides the children some of their mothers and sisters were present.

Mrs. James Smith, and Mrs. Maude Quick of Rochester Center, have been sewing for the Red Cross making dresses. Work was supplied by Mrs. Elwyn Winchell, chairman of the Red Cross of Shokan. Any person willing to assist in the work, should get in touch with the teacher of the school.

Those attaining perfect attendance since the beginning of the year are: James Smith Jr., Glenford Smith and Edwin Smith.

Start of Kingston As City Reviewed Through Records

Another Historic Article Tells of Incorporation of Two Villages as One City

The Freeman publishes the fourth of a series on the early history of Kingston and Ulster county. These articles, published in The Freeman several years ago, are reprinted at the request of principals of the local grade schools. These educators anticipate their usefulness to pupils in the upper grades studying Ulster county history in connection with the social course, which is a correlation of history, geography and civics.

The following, written by H. L. Van Deusen, is a brief review of the early struggles of leading citizens of the villages of Kingston and Rondout each to secure a charter incorporating them as cities of Kingston and Rondout. The information is taken from the files of the newspapers of those early days of over a half century ago.

Chapter VI THE NEW CITY

The Daily Freeman, of Monday, April 1872, carried the story of the birth of a new city. The story of the culmination of several years of effort brings the story of the birth of the city of Kingston to a successful conclusion. The story follows, headlines and all:

THE NEW CITY
Celebrating Its Birth—Bell Ringing, Cannon Firing, Bonfires and Illuminations—An Affecting Meeting at Schwalbach's Grand Central Hotel—The Hatchet Buried and Everything Lovely.

When it was ascertained that the city charter had been signed by the governor there was general rejoicing in both of the villages now inseparably united in the bonds of municipality, and the boards of the two places at once took steps to hold a congratulatory meeting and also arrange for the elections. On Saturday President Edward O'Reilly of Rondout sent the following telegraph dispatch to President E. M. Brigham of Kingston:

President Kingston village:

May God bless the new city. Our bells will ring at 7 p. m. Our board will meet yours at Schwalbach's at 7 1/2 p. m.

E. O'REILLY,
President Rondout Village.

Mr. Brigham responded as follows:

E. O'Reilly,
President Rondout Village:

We will meet you as proposed. May the union ever be happy.

E. M. BRIGHAM,
President Kingston Village.

Mr. O'Reilly also sent the following dispatch to W. H. Fredenburgh, one of the Kingston Directors:

W. H. Fredenburgh,
Director Village of Kingston:

Blessed be the union. Our bells will ring at 7 p. m. Our board will meet yours at Schwalbach's at 7 1/2 p. m.

E. O'REILLY,
President Rondout Village.

To this Mr. Fredenburgh replied:

E. O'Reilly,
President Rondout Village:

Let the marriage be a happy one. Our bells will ring with yours. We will meet you at the time fixed.

W. H. FREDENBURGH.

The arrangements proposed in these dispatches were carried out, and at 7 o'clock in the evening, precisely, every fire, church, steamboat and factory bell in the city struck up, and for an hour kept merry time, while the thunder of the six-pound field piece, stationed back of John O'Reilly's, a detachment of the old 20th, woke the echoes among the surrounding hills as charge after charge was fired in quick succession.

On the Vleighburgh a huge bonfire threw a bright light over the portion of the city in its immediate neighborhood, the intense darkness of the night making its brilliance more perceptible. The streets were filled with rejoicing people, and the new city was the theme of universal conversation. The handsome illumination of the Freeman office attracted general attention and added greatly to the animation of the scene at "the Strand." Uptown, too, bonfires blazed and the old village of Kingston celebrated its death most joyously and boisterously.

At seven o'clock the Rondout Board of Trustees met at the Mansion House and soon after started for Schwalbach's, where the Kingston Directors met them. A general hand-shaking took place, and congratulations were exchanged by the representatives of the two sections of the new city.

The two boards then adjourned to the inner room, where Mr. O'Reilly, approaching Mr. Brigham, grasped him by the hand and expressed the wish that the union of the two villages might be harmonious and the city's career one of prosperity and thrift. Mr. Brigham responded in an appropriate manner, when the two embraced each other cordially, thus in figure, completing the union. The scene moved the beholders almost to tears and doubtless be remembered for many years by the small but exceedingly select party of spectators.

These formalities concluded, the meeting was called to order, and E. A. Brigham was chosen chairman and S. L. Stebbins, Esq., secretary. Mr. O'Reilly then stated that the object of the meeting was to have the two boards interchange congratulations over the adoption of the charter, and also to make arrangements for holding the elections for the officers required by the provisions of the charter.

Mr. Stebbins was called on and

VOTER NO. 234 CASTS HIS BALLOT

President Roosevelt, giving his occupation as a "farmer," signs the register in a local election at Hyde Park, N. Y. With the Chief Executive are his aide, Thomas Quilley, and Mrs. Douglas Craper, election inspector. The President was Voter Number 234.

proceeded to congratulate all hands on the completion of their work, and hoped for harmony and good feeling in the new city.

Mr. T. R. Westbrook was also called for and made a little speech, dwelling on the historical fame of Kingston, the admirable location of the new city, its unequalled advantages as regarded manufacturing and other facilities, the certainty of its greatness as a railroad and commercial center, and wound up with the hope that the new city had entered upon a new era of prosperity and that the oldtime animosities were forever forgotten.

Stebbins, who can't help being funny, put in an amendment to Kingston's former glory had now been added that of ratifying the Schwalbach treaty.

Mr. Westbrook—Which will be as famous as the treaty of Ghent, no doubt.

Mr. Stebbins—Yes, and both of them Dutch treaties. (Immense laughter.)

The jollification over, the meeting proceeded to business. The section of the charter providing for elections was read, and on motion of Mr. Woolsey the two boards then proceeded to make arrangements for said elections as provided in the charter, the room being cleared to all except the two boards for that purpose.

On motion a vote of thanks was tendered Messrs. S. L. Stebbins and Marius Schoonmaker for their labors in obtaining the charter.

On motion it was resolved that the elections should be held on Tuesday, April 16.

The thanks of this meeting were extended to Mr. B. Schwalbach for his many courtesies, and that henceforth his hotel to be known as the "Grand Central Hotel."

The formal business of the meeting concluded, it was suggested that some plan for nominating the various officers might be recommended and after considerable informal discussion on the subject, the sense of the meeting was taken on a suggestion that the wards hold primary meetings, irrespective of party, on Wednesday, April 10, at 7 p. m., for the purpose of nominating aldermen to the department convention, which conventions shall nominate the supervisors and five delegates to a general convention, which general convention shall nominate the mayor and other municipal officers; that the meetings in the wards be held at the respective polling places named, the supervisor department convention at the most central polling place in each department, and the general convention at Schwalbach's Grand Central Hotel.

The meeting then adjourned, and the party bade good night to Mine Host Schwalbach, whose Grand Central Hotel will henceforth be historical.

The above description of that historic day brings this chronicle to a close, but it might well be added that the first joint election of the new city was held on April 16, 1872, and that James G. Lindley of Rondout was elected the first mayor of the City of Kingston.

Since that eventful day Kingston has grown in importance and today numbers some 30,000 inhabitants, and its growth while slow has been gradual but sure.

Ulster Township Nurse Committee Report Submitted

The annual report of the Town of Ulster nursing committee made at the recent county meeting is as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure, as president to again present to you a report of the Town of Ulster Nursing Committee, whose officers are Mrs. W. T. Hookey, President, Mrs. Hubert Brink, Vice-president, Mrs. Auley Roosa, Secretary and Mrs. Graham Parish, Treasurer.

Last year, I reported the renovation of the clinic rooms.

These consist of three rooms in the upper story of a house in East Kingston, through the efforts of the committee the rooms were thoroughly cleaned and painted and put in a sanitary condition ready for use.

An outside open stair case affords an entrance to the waiting room, while at either side, are the rooms assigned to Dr. Elizabeth Moore and Dr. C. E. Gannon and the dental hygienist, Miss Mantino.

This arrangement as first seemed perfect but when the winter winds began to blow, it was not so comfortable for the babies to have to be undressed, weighing and measured with the door opening into the room every few minutes letting in a blast of cold air, so the members of the committee finally decided to take over the whole building and pay rent for the lower rooms, using the building for the Town of Ulster Health Center.

Before taking this responsibility the Board appeared before the Town Board and had their unanimous approval.

Last week we took over these lower rooms and have started to renovate them. We are having a stair case put up, so we can have an inside entrance to the upper rooms.

The lower front room will be used as a reception and waiting room, the one in the rear for weighing and measuring, then the children can be taken up the inside staircase, mothers interviewed and the histories taken in the upper center room, we will still have the rooms for the doctor and the dental hygienist. This will be a great improvement over the old regime.

As you know, the work of the committee is divided in sub-committees, the ways and means, at this time is under the direction of the president.

We are fortunate in having a very sympathetic town board, the president appeared before them, explaining our work and our needs, and in as much as this is a town organization, the board appropriated enough money to carry us through this year at this time, we would like to express our gratitude for their interest and co-operation.

Transportation has been a great problem as many of those who were willing to use their own cars did not carry the necessary liability insurance. So we have hired a taxi to transport those who live too far away and have had no other way of getting to the clinic.

Mr. Harold Halwick has had charge of the committee and has done a fine piece of work.

The nurse's aid is under the supervision of Mrs. Graham Parish. Through her efforts we have three layettes and four obstetrical packages ready for instant use.

We also have on hand materials, such as unbleached muslin, cotton, cellul-cotton and gauze to be used in repacking the obstetrical packages.

In the shift of nurses early this year, we had a change in our town and Miss Ann Cassidy was replaced by Miss Aileen Fitzgerald, we were very sorry to lose Miss Cassidy and wish her all success and good luck in her new field. We welcome Miss Fitzgerald and promise her our loyal support.

We were fortunate in having the dental trailer in the Town of Ulster for a week, and many parents have taken advantage of this special service.

The Town of Ulster has a syphilis clinic which is open for patients every Friday. I believe it is the only town clinic of its kind in the country and is under the charge of Dr. C. L. Gannon and Miss Fitzgerald, R. N.

Through the committee we have made arrangements for some tonillectomies, we have assisted at the monthly preschool clinics, been on hand for the vaccination and toxoid clinics, and have had children and parents transported to the T. B. Hospital for X-rays and check up.

The members of the committee acted as hostesses when the dental trailer was in our town. The president took part in the radio health program. We have provided, light and heat for the syphilis and preschool clinics. We have on hand cod liver oil to be given under the doctor's prescription. At present there are 16 women taking a course in Red Cross Home Nursing under the direction of Miss Fitzgerald.

In closing I wish to express my sincere thanks to each and every one who has helped with the work of the nursing committee in the Town of Ulster.

New Drug Found in Soil Is Potent Healer, Science Finds

Strength of Gramicidin Is 1,000 to 100,000 Times Greater Than Sulfanilimide

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Boston, Nov. 5 (AP)—Almost miraculous healing of human bodies and wounds by a new drug discovered in the soil was reported to the American College of Surgeons here today.

The drug is gramicidin, and its potency is from 1,000 to 100,000 times greater than sulfanilimide. It was literally unearthed three years ago at the Rockefeller Institute, New York city, by Dr. Rene Dubose.

An idea of its potency is given by the fact that one-millionth of a teaspoonful, which is about as much as a drop of mist, is sufficient to protect a mouse from 10,000 fatal doses of pneumonia germs.

Today half a dozen of the nation's greatest medical institutions are starting human experiments with it, and the British government has asked for it to try on war wounded. Today's report was made by Doctors Charles H. Remmelkamp and Chester S. Keefer of Boston University School of Medicine.

On human beings here in Boston gramicidin has cured skin diseases, ulcers, wound infections and infections inside chests. It is not, however, on sale even to physicians, for its limitations and dangers are still largely unknown.

The largest number of near-miraculous effects have been in the cure of leg ulcers of a type that often do not heal for weeks or years. One of these, which has persisted in spite of treatment for 15 years, healed in three weeks.

Two young girls with similar ulcers of weeks duration, recovered in two weeks.

One case of chest infection in which pus ran from a chest opening, a condition that sometimes has taken several years to cure, was completely sterilized by gramicidin in a few hours. This case recovered.

There is a similar chest infection in rabbits, which is 100 per cent fatal. Gramicidin saves these animals 100 per cent of the time.

No One Knits for Him

In a New Zealand regiment is a man who complains that no one is keen to knit his socks. It is reported in Wellington. He wears size 15 shoes. He stands 6 feet 6 inches in them and they are nearly 14 inches long. A jockey in the same regiment, the Canterbury, is overwhelmed with socks. His shoes are size 3.

Four Amendments Carried in Kingston

The four proposed amendments to the State Constitution that were submitted to the voters of Kingston Tuesday were carried at the polls here.

The first amendment would authorize the legislature to appropriate $60,000,000 of the funds already authorized for grade crossing elimination and to bond the state in this amount for the construction of state highways and parkways.

Amendment No. 2 would increase the terms of state senators from two years to four years.

Amendment No. 3 would provide that the failure of an attorney general to render the required opinion on a proposed constitutional amendment shall not invalidate the amendment.

Amendment No. 4 would permit the state to construct and maintain ski trails on the slopes of Whiteface Mountain in Essex county.

The city vote on the amendments follows:

Re-elected

JOHN J. SCHWENK
Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk in commenting on the election Tuesday said: "I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the people of Kingston for the splendid support given me. For this I am very grateful. I shall co-operate with Mayor-elect Edelmuth as I have with Mayor Heiselman for the welfare of all the people of the city of Kingston."

Peat Is Dug on Engines
Experiments with peat on railway locomotives have not been highly successful, it is reported in Dublin, Eire. A locomotive drawing a train from Dublin to Cork burns three tons of coal; it consumes over eight tons of peat, with 1 1/4 tons of coal to make it burn. Moreover, a second fireman is required on a locomotive using peat.

Nazis Fail Sweden
Sweden's shipbuilding industry is seriously threatened by Germany's failure to supply the volume of ship plates agreed on, it is reported in Stockholm. Germany was to deliver 55,000 tons of ship plate during 1941, plus what it failed to deliver in 1940. Little of the 1941 quota has been delivered and a large part of the 1940 quota is yet to be shipped.

Anderson Elected Sheriff; City Vote

Local Democrats Stage Celebration With Big Parades

Mayor-elect William F. Edelmuth's victory at the polls on Tuesday gave the Democrats of Kingston the first opportunity in 10 years to celebrate the election of a Democratic mayor, and they took full advantage of the event by staging a victory parade through the city streets, with Mayor-elect Edelmuth riding in one of the automobiles in the parade.

In fact there was more than one parade last night, for one demonstration after another was staged. As a result of the large number of automobiles that paraded through the streets with horns blowing traffic snarls occurred and kept members of the police department busy keeping traffic moving.

The election of Mr. Edelmuth kept the fire department busy answering 11 fire alarms, mostly for bonfires.

Among the alarms responded to by the fire department were fires at Abel and DeWitt streets; two fires on Chambers street; three bell alarms for bonfires at Murray street and Hasbrouck avenue; a false alarm turned in at McEntee street and Broadway, and brush fires off West Chestnut street and at the Rice property on Wurts street.

The firemen extinguished all fires before any damage followed.

Baffled but discreet, the crew waited.

Self Opponent Is Swept Into Office

North Castle Man Loses His Fight, but Duryee Is One Happy Man

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Joseph F. O'Neill was elected to a $2,400-a-year office yesterday despite a strenuous campaign against himself.

O'Neill was nominated by Democrats for tax receiver of North Castle township. He asked the supreme court to strike his name from the ballot but failed. Then he made speeches and wrote letters urging his friends not to vote for him.

He was elected anyway, defeating the Republican incumbent, Mrs. Julia Bennett, 766 to 721. In refusing O'Neill's plea, the court ruled that he had failed to decline formally within the legal period of time.

But Samuel S. Duryee, of Garrison, another campaigner who talked against himself, felt great. Democratic candidate for the combination office of surrogate, children's court and county judge, in Putnam county, he did everything he could not to be elected—and was strikingly successful. With the votes of only one township missing, Judge James W. Bailey, Republican incumbent, had a plurality of 3,100 votes over the successful failure.

As in O'Neill's case, Duryee was unsuccessful in getting the court to strike his name from the election slate. Judge Bailey conceded that a good part of his winning margin could be attributed to smart campaigning on his behalf—by Duryee.

Good Business

The happiness business in the world is that of making friends. And no "investment" in "the street" pays larger dividends. For life is more than stocks and bonds and love than rate per cent. And he who gives in friendship's name shall reap as he has sown. Life is the great investment and no man lives in vain. Who guards a hundred friendships as a miser guards his gain.

Sergeant—And when were you born?

Two men were out shooting when suddenly a policeman popped up and demanding to see their licenses, one immediately took to his heels, and the cop rushed off in pursuit, finally catching him after a ten-minute chase. The man then surprised his captor by reaching in his pocket and pulling out his hunting license.

Officer (exasperated)—Why, did you run, when you had a license?

Hunter—Well, you see officer, the other fellow didn't.

Waitress—I'm not supposed to tell you, sir, but we got some of our food from the school of cookery and home economics, next door, and if you get sick after that omelet you've just eaten, those girls have all failed in their examination.

CO-OPERATION. The ability to work with each other toward a common end is given only to human beings. Machinery, steam, electricity works for you. But only man can work with you; only you can work with another man. Are you fitting yourself for such cooperation?

Long Distance

THE Colonel held up a large white hand. "You will tell just what I want you to tell," he said positively, "unless you want to see your two aunts forced to go on relief."

Sue Ellen stared at him too enraged to speak.

"Magnolia House belongs to the bank," said Colonel Moore smoothly. "It has been mortgaged and remortgaged just as Belle Acres was mortgaged to keep up an appearance which no Fairhope can maintain without substantial backing today."

"And you are that backer?" He smiled and, reaching over, patted her hand. "Sue Ellen, I like your spirit. I'm quite reconciled to having you for a daughter-in-law. I want you to marry Riv when everything has been cleared up. I think you understand the best and the worst about him."

She tried to interrupt, but he shook his head. "Not a word. It was unfortunate that you rushed off so impulsively, but even that has me very much to admire you, for you're a girl of spirit and determination and that is what Riv needs."

"Colonel Moore," her eyes were startlingly bright and her lips set and positive, "I will not marry Riv. Riv made me close my eyes to things I should have seen. Riv doesn't love me—he never did. Like myself, he read love into a childish affection, and if Deedora Waller could make him forget me, another woman could, also. Whatever our financial condition, the fate of the Fairhopes has no part in my affair. For a long time I've disliked you, principles, your methods, the way you have taken advantage of our bad luck in Tyler Springs, to sell off our plantations to greedy Yankees."

"Why not?" asked the Colonel smoothly. "They have money. Someone has to buy places like Belle Acres when they are thrown on the market for back taxes and to pay overdue interest on mortgages."

"Belle Acres will never fall into your hands or that of a Yankee."

He smiled. "Tonight when you are all upset and think you have no further use for Riv, I have the greatest sympathy for you, dear, and feel that this is no time to bring you bad news."

His voice took a sympathetic tone, but his cold hard eyes were stern.

"Bad news?"

He nodded. "I have been patient. I have listened while you maligned my son for doing what any impetuous, infatuated young man might easily do, but I cannot listen to remarks which hint that I am unscrupulous and underhanded in my business methods. You, like many southerners, are sentimental and have no idea about business, no regard for legal transactions—financial obligations. But you must know that I have been patient and lenient with your aunts up to the point where my own credit was jeopardized if I continued to carry a bad investment any longer."

Johnny Again

"WHAT are you trying to tell me?" for he was working up to some climax, some final blow in retaliation for her stubbornness, her unwillingness to marry Riv. She knew from the experience of others that he could be hard and ruthless when he was thwarted, and she had told him that she would go back and disprove the truth to everyone about Riv and his unfaithfulness. It was the only way unless—she remembered Johnny. She missed his call, but she knew where he was staying. She would go to him as soon as possible and explain the whole situation—

Before the Colonel could reply to her question, she arose and held out her hand. "I'm tired. Whatever you have to tell me could only make me more miserable. I can guess—you want to say that unless you have the interest on that Belle Acres mortgage, you must foreclose the mortgage and sell the place. Well, that is going to be my call. Your interest is in the bank and Aunt Car is only waiting for your return to pay you what she owes and refinance the plantation through a government loan."

He was smiling and she did not like his smile.

"And you—what will you do?" he asked.

"I'm getting married."

She waited for his reaction with a warm feeling of triumph singing in her veins. She had surprised him. She had shaken that smooth mask—his complacency. The mask slipped and his face was crimson with anger, and distorted. She would marry Johnny Harris on whatever terms he proposed. She would marry him immediately. . . . she would return to Tyler Springs and say "I fooled you. I planned this all the time. Didn't I say that I was going to Washington to marry? And so I did. I broke my engagement to Riv Moore because I no longer loved him." I don't love Riv; I love Johnny—Johnny—she said to herself, and forgot Colonel Moore's presence until he caught her by the shoulder and whirled her about so that she faced him.

He was not angry now. He was smiling. That cold lip smile with his eyes hard and shrewd and ugly. "Whom are you marrying?" he demanded.

She smiled at him. "No one you know."

He released her and picked up his hat. "I didn't mean to tell you," he said slowly, "but since you are marrying immediately, you should know. Belle Acres is sold. One of those Yankees whom you dislike so heartily found out through the bank that the place might be for sale. Technically, there was no reason why I should not sell it. The mortgage was over due—back taxes and interest had accumulated for several years. The bank refused to advance anything on it, for Magnolia House was already mortgaged to the hilt and that was the only other property your aunts owned. I did the best I could—"

"You sold it?" The words came slowly.

He nodded. "I sold it. I sold it to a northerner who has been angling for it ever since he came down to Camp Shelby. You may have met him. Knowing how you despise the thought of a northerner owning Mississippi property, I have been like Riv, a coward about telling you bad news. Now—I think you should know that a man named Harris holds the deed to Belle Acres."

Then, as she said nothing, he continued: "I hope that you will reconsider your plan to leave tomorrow, Sue Ellen. There are some things I should like to talk over with you when you are not so tired. Get a good rest. Riv will call you." He held out his hand, but Sue Ellen made no move to take it. As he walked away, a bellhop came toward her and said that there had been a telephone call for her earlier in the evening. The call had come through again, would she take it in the booth or in her room?

"Tell the gentleman I'm not in," Sue Ellen said slowly.

The boy looked puzzled. "But it isn't a gentleman. It's a lady calling long distance from Tyler Springs, Mississippi."

No Plan

A TELEPHONE call from Tyler Springs, Mississippi, Sue Ellen repeated the words stupidly. She had been so sure that the call was from Johnny Harris.

It was Aunt Car who answered, when she closed the door of the booth behind her and took down the receiver.

"Sue Ellen—"

"Yes, Aunt Car."

"I've been trying to get you all evening," said Aunt Car. Her voice was high and strained and unnatural. "I went to the bank this afternoon. She then told her she had learned that it was too late to redeem Belle Acres. That the mortgage had been foreclosed weeks before and the Colonel had not notified her—until the banker declared the whole transaction irregular—that Magnolia House was threatened—that she never had understood legal transactions, for her father had managed all that, and she was bewildered and frightened and would Sue Ellen return to Tyler Springs as soon as possible, for they needed her desperately."

Sue Ellen promised to return the following day. She would see the Colonel, although even as she promised she had a gloomy feeling that further discussion of Belle Acres would only prove humiliating and ineffectual unless she met the Colonel's demand to marry Riv. She hung up the receiver feeling so weary in mind and body she could scarcely walk across to the elevator. Back in her room, she slumped down in a chair without removing her short fur coat.

A man would know how to handle the Colonel, Johnny Harris would know, if she could get that he had been ungrateful enough to buy Belle Acres, when he knew—But did he know how much the place meant to them? How loath they were to part with it? How could she know what picture the Colonel had painted to Johnny to put over the transaction?

There was only one way to find out, and that was to ask Johnny Harris himself.

It was too late now. After three in the morning. She would call him the first thing the next day, and even though she did not consider Johnny's offer of marriage, she could talk over her problem and Johnny might offer some solution.

She undressed and went to bed and tossed wide eyed. It was grey dawn when she fell asleep and nine o'clock when she opened her eyes. She felt dull and drowsy and only half awake, when she realized that her telephone was ringing shrilly.

Johnny! She reached over and took the receiver from its cradle, with her heart leaping with an emotion which made her fairly dizzy. She made up her mind in that second. She would marry Johnny Harris because she loved him. She would marry him and forget her silly pride which prompted her to consider first her reasons.

Prize Checks Sent To Fair Winners By County Society

Pratt Boice, treasurer of the Ulster County Agricultural Society, has announced that checks totaling $4,740.40 have been mailed to residents of Ulster county, who exhibited at the county fair last August. There were over 400 exhibitors in all of the various departments. The premiums paid this year are the highest ever paid at any Ulster county fair. The maximum for which the state will reimburse county fairs is $5000. At the meeting when arrangements were made to send out the premiums checks, preliminary arrangements were made for the 1942 fair during the latter part of August. For several years this one-day fair has been held in Forsyth Park in Kingston. The public has been invited without admission charge. It is hoped that facilities will be available in the future to make it possible to hold at least a two-day fair.

Junior League Has Conference in City

Orientation Course Is Started Locally

In conjunction with the Mid-Hudson orientation course for the provisional members of the Poughkeepsie, New York, Middletown and Kingston Junior Leagues, which is being held in Kingston this week, a luncheon was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Monday. At this time the subject of Civilian National Defense was discussed by Mayor Conrad J. Heislman, chairman of the Local Council of National Defense of Kingston.

Mrs. John G. Myers Hilton, director of the Division of Civilian Participation of the Local Council of National Defense of Kingston; Mrs. Clifford Nuhn, director of the Division of Civilian Participation of the Local Council of National Defense of Poughkeepsie, and Miss Gwynedd Owen of the Community Service Department of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, who is conducting the course, Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, vice-president and education chairman of the Junior League of Kingston, acted as toastmistress.

Mayor Heislman in his talk explained the set-up of the Local Defense Council and its functions. He outlined the work already accomplished and told of the plans for the future. He pointed out how difficult it was to make the citizens of the United States realize the dangers which we may have to face. In this chaotic world of today we must be prepared for any emergency. Mayor Heislman emphasized the fact that even though we may never have to face actual invasion, the civilian defense program is accomplishing one definite thing. It is awakening in the American people a sense of responsibility to their communities by stimulating concrete forms of volunteer service.

Outlines Phases
Mrs. Hilton outlined in her talk the various phases of civilian participation in the defense program. She explained the setting up of volunteer offices, their personnel, and their functions. Mrs. Hilton pointed out that through these offices volunteer service can be made more efficient and effective. She paid tribute to the volunteer service of the New York Guard, an outstanding example of well co-ordinated and unselfish volunteer service.

In closing Mrs. Hilton said, quote—"The time has come when Americans must close ranks, forget their disagreements over ways and means, and seek an agreement as to their objective in the action that lies ahead. A magnificent way for the men and women of this country to obtain that goal is not only through a unification of purpose, but through unselfish volunteer service." Unquote.

Mrs. Nuhn explained the work being done in Poughkeepsie by the Civilian Participation Committee of the Poughkeepsie Defense Council.

Miss Owen in summing up to the young women taking the course, stressed the value of efficient volunteer service. It is a defense of our community, health, recreation and welfare, not only in war but in peacetime as well. Because of the present emergency, well trained volunteers must take on added responsibilities. They must carry on what they have been doing in community service in addition to the extra tasks caused by the world conditions of today.

Marbletown, Lloyd Report on Nurse Committees' Work

Reports of activities for the year of the public health nursing committees in the town of Marbletown and Lloyd as given at the annual meeting are as follows:

"The Public Health Nursing Committee of Marbletown was started two years ago as a sewing group to make layettes for mothers, who for one reason or another, were unable to furnish the necessary clothes for their babies.

"We now maintain a loan closet with sick room supplies which is available to anyone living in the township. Through the kindness of the board of trustees of the Stone Ridge Public Library, we have a room in their building which we use for this purpose. We entered heartily into the campaign to provide more public health nurses for the county which was waged last winter. We are delighted now to have a nurse covering our township. We don't know how we ever managed without her and she has more than repaid any efforts we made in her behalf by the splendid work she is doing. The committee stands solidly back of her and tries to meet any and all of her requests. She was given a key to the loan closet and I believe finds it very useful. We helped her with a school census and of course, worked on the defense questionnaires.

"Our township at the present is not in need of a clinic but our group stands ready and willing to help out in any emergency at any time. Through the efforts of one of our members a Red Cross First Aid Class was formed under the able direction of Dr. Edward P. Shea and over 50 persons finished the course. This completes our work for the last year."

BEATRICE A. WALDEN

Town of Lloyd

"As one of the oldest nursing committees in the county, we are fortunate in that we have an endowed health center. We do not have to raise money for equipment or up-keep but we do get the supplies, the layettes, the obstetric packages, etc. This year we have had an abundant supply of all, and all because we received the cooperation of the Red Cross Home Nursing Classes that were conducted last winter. There were 50 women who took these classes in the interest of national defense, and through them, we have gotten cooperation in transporting patients from rural areas to all our clinics. With the result that more babies and mothers than ever were brought in and greater care was taken of them. We also had classes this summer for high school girls and are starting more adult classes this fall.

Besides providing transportation throughout the year, our nursing committee in cooperation with the

Domestic Farce Runs In Film at Broadway

Hilarious situations develop quickly when Robert Young attempts to post as a bachelor, authority on marriage, and keep his wife, Ruth Hussey, happy at one and the same time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Married Bachelor," domestic farce, now playing at the Broadway theatre.

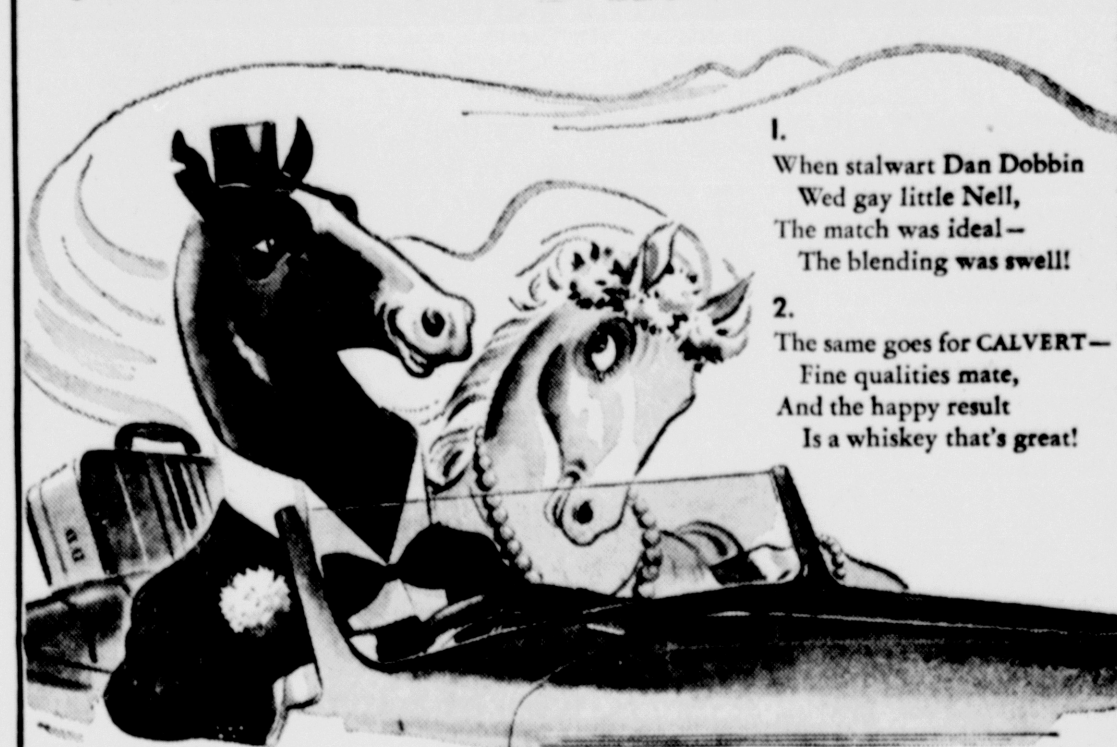

It all starts when Miss Hussey tries to reform her husband, Young, who is nothing but a beloved fraud. In his attempt to "go straight" he becomes involved with a hard-boiled gangster, a down-trodden author, a publisher, and evolves into the man-of-the-hour as far as the feminine contingent of the nation is concerned. Young has never been seen to better advantage than as the harried "married bachelor" who finds feminine adoration a trifle head-turning. The lovely Miss Hussey shows a decided flair for comedy.

Car owners... and drivers—

Important new law Will You Be Able To Meet Requirements Of Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law?

IGNORANCE OF LAW NO EXCUSE

The minimum amount of financial responsibility required is as follows: $5,000 for injury to, or death of, one person in one accident; $10,000 for injury to, or death of, two or more persons in one accident, and $1,000 for damage to the property of others.

The best, safest, and most economical way for you to prove that you are financially responsible is to carry the right kind of Automobile insurance in a company licensed to do business in New York State!

You May Lose Your Job, Too

If your job requires that you drive a car—you shouldn't have to be told how important this new law is to you. Loss of your driver's license and car registration may mean the loss of your job!

HERE ARE THE DETAILS...

THE New York State Legislature has enacted a law which will affect every person who drives a car. The new law has real teeth in it!

Under this law you will be barred from the roads as a driver or owner of an automobile, the first time you have an accident involving any bodily injury; or damage to property in excess of $25.00.

UNLESS you can satisfy the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles that the liability for damages resulting from such accident is insured, or

IF NOT so insured, until you can give security to satisfy any judgments resulting from the accident and until you give proof of your financial responsibility for the future, or

IF YOU fail to pay, within 15 days, a final judgment for bodily injury in any amount, or for property damage of more than $25.00.

The law also applies to any person convicted of violation of certain provisions of the Motor Vehicle law.

Shandaken Town Nurse Committee Submits Report

The Town of Shandaken public health nursing committee report given at the annual county meeting is as follows:

"This is the report of the Nursing Committee of the Town of Shandaken for the past year. We have had our Committee for two years. We feel that we have made great progress this year than the previous year."

During the year 1940, 8 Child Health Consultations were held, at which 62 toxoids were done, 10 vaccinations, 31 appointments for Dental Hygienist, 56 preschool children were taken care of, 27 babies were examined by doctor.

During the year 1941, up to the present date, we have held a consultation every month and the Dental Hygienist has attended every month. In March we had the benefits of the dental trailer for two weeks and 20 children were taken care of. Dr. Finn reported that 20 children had been seen and this included: 60 silver fillings, 10 extractions, x-rays of all the children's teeth.

In April our town nurse joined us, and our clinic and nursing aid expanded by leaps and bounds. We have an average now of 12 children at each and six to eight children for the dental hygienist. Through the cooperation of our local doctors and nurses we have taken care of 10 children for tonsillitides.

With the cooperation of the orthopedic nurse, Miss O'Shea, four children have attended the Orthopedic Clinic and shoes for braces have been ordered for one of the children. Through our Rotating Fund, we made it possible for a burn case of Miss O'Shea's to get to New York for extensive operative work. Due to our disasterous fire last year, it was necessary for us to find temporary quarters and re-equip them, and incidentally, we carry insurance. Our annual dance this year was successful and netted us $198.

For the fall we have undertaken a program for our children. Through the efforts of Mr. Bennett, our School Superintendent, and Mr. Schantz of the County Welfare Department all the schools are receiving surplus commodities. Our part is to be sure that there is equipment and facilities for taking care of these, such as, electric plates for heating soup and other foods, pans and spoons that are necessary. Each child is bringing his own eating utensils and certain of the older children can be given the responsibility of making and preparing the food for that particular day.

We would like to see the Dental Hygienist visit each school in our district and our Nursing Committee is planning to take care of the financial part of the follow-up work. Also any defective eyes and tonsils or any other defects found in the physical examination will be taken care of.

The Rotating Fund I spoke of is a fund whereby any parent who does not have sufficient funds on hand for corrective work to be done may make arrangements to borrow the money from this fund and payments may be made at their convenience. It is worked out in this way, i. e., braces were obtained for a child and his only shoes were cut and found to be improper for braces. Arrangements were made to procure the shoes through the fund and even before the shoes were sent from the factory $5 out of the $7 (the original cost of the shoes) was repaid by the family. Such excellent return is not expected and will be forthcoming in all cases, but it gives the family a sense of independence and we are happy in being able to do this for our community.

Respectfully submitted to this third Regional Conference of the Ulster County Public Health Nursing Committee.

MRS. W. H. CRUICKSHANK,
President

Efficient Touch Typing
Can Be Learned at Home

Chart Makes System Easy
That longed-for job! Being able to type well is one of the surest ways to win it.

But typing well isn't just a knack, a trick. It's knowing the fast and accurate touch system—which you can teach yourself at home with a chart of the type-writer keys!

As you see in our picture, the chart shows the "guide keys" (A, S, D, F and J, K, L, ;) in black, and the other keys in white. Your fingers always return to these guide keys after typing other keys.

Of course you know there are four rows of keys. The chart divides these into areas, one for each finger, indicated by the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4. For instance, Number 4, the left little finger, types A (the guide key), Q above it and Z below it.

Your fingers get used to their positions and areas in a very short time. You don't need to look at the keys and move—you can type with eyes on copy!

Our 32-page booklet, a home course in touch typewriting, includes chart of keys and exercises for speed and accuracy. Explains how to operate typewriter; good usage in typing business, social, official letters and tables of statistics.

Send 10 cent in coin for your copy of "Teach Yourself Touch Typewriting" to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Bragg and Romelous Are Big Guns of Highland Eleven

Two Have Scored 66 Points So Far In Five Contests

Romelous' Play Has Been Brilliant at End Slot; Bragg Is Leading Team's Ground Attack

Benny Bragg, the flashy Highland High School fullback who will lead Coach Will Burke's gridders into municipal stadium next Saturday afternoon against Kingston, personally led his teammates to an easy 18 to 0 victory over Wappingers Falls last week.

Bragg, who has scored 30 points up to the October 29 rating, advanced his total for the season to 42 points. Benny slid around his own right end in the third session to make his first score and then bounced back in the final frame to register his second six-pointer of the game.

Pete Romelous, ace end of the Highland varsity, also scored for the Burkemen when he climaxed a 60-yard drive by spurring 20 yards on an end around end play in the second session. It was Romelous' 24th point of the campaign.

Team Is Praised
Following the game writers were high on the Highland team. A scribe for the Newburgh News said, "brandishing a powerful line and showing exceptionally fine form despite the wet weather, Highland proved its merit as one of the Hudson valley's leading secondary school grid teams."

The writer went on to add that the Burkemen held the Fallmen to a gain of 51 yards on the ground and limited the losers to two first downs. Meanwhile, Highland pounded out 10 first downs. The Burkemen also completed three of the four passes attempted, which is quite a feat itself.

With a number of capable pass throwers in the lineup as well as fine pass receivers, Highland is well stocked for the aerial warfare. In all probability, the Burkemen would have resorted to the passing game more had the weather been permissible. Coach Weems boys expect to see a lot of aerials floating through the air this week.

Highland displayed further that it was a mudder by steamrolling to a net gain of 227 yards on line plunges in the game with Wappingers. The efforts of Jimmy Phillips, Johnny Gruner, Tom Murphy and Bragg, having Romelous on the squad is a double blessing for Coach Will Burke.

Pete holds down his end position in line style but doesn't let it go at that. He has a wonderful pair of legs and uses them to perfection on end around plays, and when he's out catching passes thrown by his backfield members. He's stirred up quite a bit of interest also in this campaign with his fine defensive play.

Team's Big Game
Ever since Highland bottled Arlington by a huge score, experts have watched this plucky school advance through each game with a better record. Now, the big game has arrived for Coach Burke's gridders. A victory over the Maroon team, a disappointment this year, would still be a big achievement in the books at Highland.

Coach Tommy Weems, meanwhile, is prepping his boys in hopes of snapping that four-game losing streak which is one of the longest ever experienced by the local school. Of course, injuries and inexperienced material haven't helped the cause any.

The plight of Kingston in this game is very important as it may be its final chance to gain a victory in the 1941 season. Surely, the Maroon stands very little chance of upsetting Newburgh Thanksgiving Day at the stadium. Newburgh was just eked out by Middletown last week despite the fact that the Hilly City gridders outplayed their rivals.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Nov. 5.—(The Special News Service)—That wasn't a bantane you heard howling during the past couple of days, only football coaches who figured the officials hadn't done right by their teams. . . . First, Florida's Tom Lieb complained about a timer who stopped the clock when he shouldn't. Then Northwestern's Lynn Waldorf claimed the Minnesota boys didn't stop themselves for the required second on that touchdown play. And Princeton's Tad Weiman said Franny Lee of Harvard had hit the ground two yards away from the touchdown that beat the Tigers and shouldn't have been called safe on his slide. . . . Other coaches might be howling, too, but they'd rather take a chance on the Wolves than on being called poor losers.

Long Hits Wanted
Hearing the other day about the mysterious clippings regarding one Lou Gehrig discovered in Lou Gehrig's scrapbook, Jim Finnerty of Bloomfield, N. J., recalled how Gehrig (Long for college reasons) played a game there once. Lou worked in the outfield and didn't get a hit. The manager paid him three bucks for his work, then said the club couldn't use him again because they needed a slugger outfielder.

One-Minute Sports Page
Les MacMittell, the N. Y. U. runner who is our idea of the standout athlete in this section, may set another record in the I. C.-4-A cross country run November 17. He already has won two varsity and one freshman title and may become the first runner to make a clean sweep. . . . The American Bowling Congress sent out an S. O. S. for bowling slant a few weeks ago and now complains that only about 200 terms have been received. . . . Bill Byrd, Maryland freshman blocking back, is the son of Dr. H. C. Byrd, the college president who was a great athlete 30-odd years ago. And they say the prexy still can run faster than Bill. . . . Trainer Sarge Swenke says Alsab will be the first supplementary nomination in the history of the Belmont stakes. It will cost owner Al Sabath $2,500 to give the colt a shot at the triple crown. . . . Current rumor in New England is that Harry Mehre will come north from Mississippi next season to take Joe Sheeketski's Holy Cross job.

Gaining Maximum Yield From Peas, Beans, Lupins
Peas, beans and lupins belong to a family of plants known botanically as legumes.
They have the unusual attribute of taking nitrogen from the air and secreting it in the roots in little bumps easily seen when the plant is pulled up.
These are usually referred to as nodules.
A special form of bacteria performs the work for the legumes of taking the nitrogen from the air.
In some soils these bacteria are absent or deficient and it is necessary to inoculate it with a culture containing it. To accomplish this the seed is treated before sowing.
To gain the maximum yield from peas, beans and other legumes, particularly in large plantings, the seed may be inoculated with nitrogen culture now commercially available and sold by all seed houses, the cans containing complete directions for its use.
The various legumes require different cultures, clovers and alfalfa being legumes as well as peas and beans.
It would be an interesting experiment for the home gardener to plant a row of inoculated peas and beans and another row which has not had the nitrogen inoculation and note the difference in the vigor and growth of the two rows.

Pari-Mutuel Returns

Pari-mutuel betting on thoroughbred racing in New York will pay the state a minimum of $7,758,922.52. This is the estimate made yesterday by Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission. It includes tax on admissions but does not include receipts from trotting races or the amateur hunts meetings. The last of the amateur racing meets will be held today by the United Hunts at Belmont Park.

Notre Dame Asks For Good Weather At Navy Contest

Irish Believe Chances Rest on Fast Field; Coach Leahy Says Passes May Be Worked

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 5.—(The Associated Press)—The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame never have asked for a break from any opponent—but they're asking the weatherman for one Saturday at Baltimore.

For after last Saturday's scoreless tie with Army in New York's rain and mud, Notre Dame wants a fast field for its battle with undefeated Navy. To put it more directly, Notre Dame believes its big chance for victory lies in its passing game—and the Army game indicated Sophomore Angelo Bertelli needs a dry ball to hit his receivers consistently.

"Maybe our running game isn't everything it should be," said Coach Frank Leahy. "But the material has been thin and we've had few scrimmages because of fear of injury. Accordingly, we've done a lot of pass work. It may pay off Saturday."

Papyrus Is Dead

Newmarket, England, Nov. 5.—Papyrus, the horse that won the 1923 derby and later was sent to America to race the famous Zev, was found dead in its stable yesterday.

Patrick Believes Rangers Strong

May Not Succeed Bruins, However, Says Boss

(By The Associated Press)
Although his team has played only one game, Lester Patrick has discarded his usual conservatism to declare that his New York Rangers are "one of the finest teams in the club's history."

Patrick won't go so far as to say that the Rangers will succeed the Boston Bruins, Stanley Cup winners, but he does say that with an even share of the breaks they will be contenders all the way.

He was particularly enthusiastic about Jim Henry, the young goalie, and Clint (Snuffy) Smith, center. He brought back word from Toronto, where the Rangers opened with a 4 to 3 triumph, that Lynn Patrick was out with a torn leg muscle and Scotty Cameron was absent because of a bruised back.

Meanwhile, the Bruins broke camp at Hershey, Pa., and moved on to Ottawa, where they will play an amateur aggregation tonight, then go to Toronto for their league inaugural Saturday.

The only newcomer able to stick with the Stanley Cup kings was Frank Mario, 20-year-old right winger up from the amateurs. He replaces Terry Reardon, detained in Canada because of passport difficulties.

Jackets Call Off Further Contests For '41 Campaign

Losses at Box Office Have Forced Local Gridders to Abandon Games; Club Won Three

At a general meeting of Yellow Jacket players last night it was formally decided to abandon all hopes of playing any more games this season. Successive setbacks at the box office have had the writing on the wall ever since the season started.

At the same time the Jackets decided to call off the road offers which would have taken them out of town for the next couple of weeks. No further action on the squad is expected to be made until the 1942 grid season.

In five games the Wasps won two and dropped three. They played the Amsterdam Rough Riders, Bronx Spartans, United Clothiers of Middletown, the Schenectady Merrimacs and the Hoboken Tornadoes. The local gridgers closed up the campaign last week with a 20 to 0 victory over the Skeeter State outfit.

As the season comes to a sharp and early close for the Wasps a big bouquet is due Eddie Minasian, popular player of the Jackets many years who this season took over the duties as manager of the club. Eddie kept the club going as long as possible.

Although no information has been announced from any quarters, it is believed that some new idea will be made next year in hopes of bringing semi-pro football back to this city on a high and paying basis.

Cage Teams Will Be Formed Friday Night at Y. M. C. A.

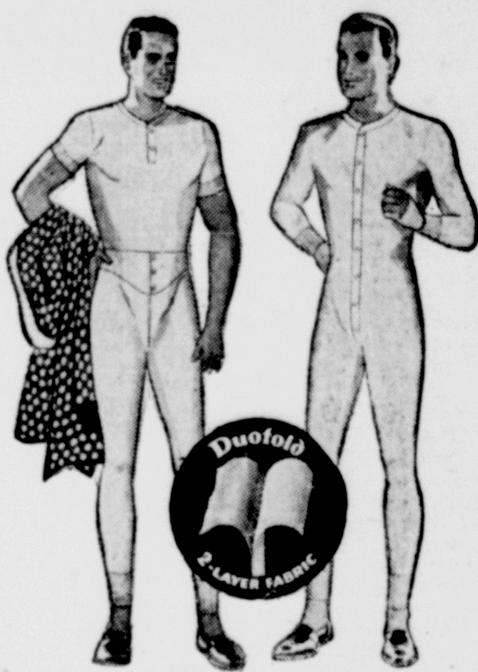

Members of 'Y' Young Men's Club Will Be Eligible to Play on Quintets

According to word received from Richard Thomas of the Y. M. C. A. this morning, an effort will be made this year to stimulate interest in basketball by forming cage teams made up of representatives of the Y. M. C. A. Young Men's Club.

By this action it is hoped that all members of the "Y" will be given a chance to participate in the sport. Players already signed for the teams are Andy Dykes, Chipe Rhymer, Jesse Shultis, Al Bruce and Myron Van Buren. It is believed many more will be signed Friday night when the team will hold a practice session at the Y. M. C. A., starting at 8 o'clock.

According to present plans the

La Guardia Wins His Third Term

managed, however, to retain the mayoralty of Pittsburgh.

Maurice J. Tobin won reelection as mayor of Boston, thwarting a comeback campaign by James M. Curley. Both are registered Democrats.

Governor Charles Edison's attempt to wrest control of the New Jersey legislature from the Republicans failed, despite the governor's statewide stumping tour.

Dwight H. Green, Republican governor of Illinois, likewise met with no success in his support of his party's slate in 23 Chicago judgeship contests. Victory went to a Democratic sponsored coalition slate consisting of 15 Democratic and eight G. O. P. candidates.

Balloting on some legislative candidates and on proposed constitutional changes aroused little interest in Kentucky, since Democratic control of the state legislature was not at stake.

Other election results:
Cleveland: Democrats broke an eight-year Republican hold on city hall by electing Frank J. Lausche as mayor.

Detroit: Incumbent Edward J. Jeffries defeated Joseph A. Gillis for mayor in non-partisan balloting.

Bridgeport, Conn.: Mayor Jasper McLevy, Socialist, won a fifth term.

Albany, N. Y.: Erastus Corning 2nd elected mayor, giving Democrats an extension of their hold on city affairs, continuous since 1922.

Town Stays Dry

Castile, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—This Wyoming county town, "dry" since 1935, will stay that way. Residents decided in yesterday's election, 1,895 to 1,223, to continue prohibition of sale of liquor in any form by any manner.

Fifth Ward Status Awaits Decision

Who will serve as supervisor of the Fifth ward for the ensuing years is still not known, due to the fact that on Tuesday there was a tie vote cast for Supervisor Edwin W. Ashby, the present incumbent, and his Democratic opponent, Charles Perry.

At the Ulster county board of elections it was said this afternoon that the board was not prepared to make any statement.

Several theories have been advanced, none of them official. One is that as a result of the tie there was no election and that Supervisor Ashby would continue to serve for 1942-43.

Another theory was that the office would be declared vacant and that the first of the year Mayor-elect William F. Edelmuth would appoint some one to serve.
